

The Philippines schools project

2018

Moving on!

2017 was a very busy time for us. We arrived back from the Philippines and set about moving house. We despatched some goods we already had in our dining room store room before we moved and then the big upheaval as our world disappeared around the corner in two big trucks. Established in our new home, it didn't take long to accumulate more goods and these were freighted out in turn. The last batch was sent just before we left to visit the Phils again in 2018, and two deliveries from the UK arrived in the Philippines after we did. All in all we sent twelve boxes, only half of that from the previous year, but a considerable amount under the circumstances. Jo once again played the starring role, not only packing the boxes of Phils goods but packing up our old home and setting up our new one.

We had no building plans for this year, so we wanted to concentrate on improving the facilities for the students and teachers. So there is not so much to show for our efforts this year, but we do think we are moving in the right direction, as far as finances allow. We could always achieve more with a greater income, but that's the same for every charity-based voluntary organisation, I guess. That's not to belittle the efforts of our supporters, without whom we could achieve only a fraction of what we do.

Everything we do is all thanks to you!

Only six boxes had arrived by the time we got to the Philippines, so we were able to witness the delivery process as the rest of our consignment arrived soon after we did!

Then it was the usual process of sorting out which gifts were most appropriate to which of the schools, and then delivering all of those gifts on site to the students.

The first job once the goods are sorted, is to deliver the various parcels to the schools. Then the gifts are distributed to the students.

All the students, now over 1,200 in total, get a selection of writing materials. The younger ones get soft toys and model cars, and of course

Jo's cousin once more very kindly made the 100+ bags that we filled with goodies to distribute.

We were also able to supply the teaching staff with some much needed support materials.

Catering supplies and 4-draw filing cabinets

USB drives
Storage cabinets

A comb binding machine and printer.
Extractor fans to help regulate the temperatures in the classrooms, sometimes having 45 or more students to a class!

The students of both schools are responsible for the general upkeep of the school surroundings and flower beds.

Horticulture is just part of the curriculum, ecology is equally important, recycling drinks containers or old tyres into flowers, pots and containers

In addition to all that we purchase for the students, there is the wonderful array of goods given to us for the schools. This year, that included a magnificent assortment of art materials, laminators and dye cutting machines which were greatly appreciated by the art department

Both schools show their appreciation by putting on the most amazing impromptu dance and singing performances for us.

As usual, the building projects were started as soon as we arrived.

An additional wash facility was provided for the elementary school, with another for the high school

In both instances, this created an additional demand for water, so new tanks and pumps were required and a badly rotted and infested roof needed to be repaired

The new building is finished and in use. We now have a dedicated library alongside the computer room, and these units were serviced while we were there.

We had 6 low tables built for the kindergarten students

Just a few of the gifts our friends provide for the students every year, which contribute to the success the schools have achieved 377 students receive scholarships!!

For the barangay health workers, we built a cabinet and stocked it with goodies for them

Got them some chairs for their waiting room and provided them with scales and a hand wash facility

As we always say to our sponsors, thank you so much for making all of this possible.
